

The next workshop in OGE's Financial Literacy for Graduate Student series is fast approaching. On Tuesday, April 24 from 12:00-1:30 in 68-181, we will be offering a workshop on Planning for Retirement. Ryan Shorey, Financial Consultant and Certified Financial Planner from Fidelity Investments will be on hand to introduce basic principles of retirement planning and answer questions.

It is suggested that interested students RSVP here (Free pizza!). More information on the OGE Financial Literacy Initiative can be found here: <http://news.mit.edu/2015/graduate-student-financial-literacy-initiative-launched-1002>

I would also like to take this opportunity to remind everyone about our completely free iGrad Financial Literacy platform (offered in collaboration with the MIT Federal Credit Union). Customized for MIT with videos, articles, games, job board, searchable scholarship database, and interactive modules on a wide range of topics, including budgeting, emergency-funding, credit card management, identity protection, spending-smarts, etc. it is a great financial literacy tool for students and the MIT community in general. More information can be found at odg.mit.edu/finances. Students can sign up at <http://igrad.com/schools/MIT>.

Best,
Scott
